

THAMES RIVER LANDING
NORWICH, CONNECTICUT

The re-use of the Norwich State Hospital, a large campus of architecturally significant buildings located on a 41.6 acre site overlooking the Thames River has been a quandary ever since the closing of the facility. Hendren Design Associates has prepared a Master Plan for a viable restoration of the property that will preserve many of the buildings, open the public access to the river and breathe new life and vitality into the site as well as the community.
